The Manager Store. Choosing Dress Goods

IT is the policy and the purpose, and it is within the power of the Wanamaker Stores to do things largely. Mediocre methods and half-hearted efforts are as expensive as they are otherwise objectionable. Real economies lie in large movements, and we have proved this so many times that it has become a mercantile axiom of commonplace quotation.

We have never done anything larger in its line than this year's showing of Dress Goods. We promise you heavier stocks, larger varieties and more "difference" and freshness than you have ever found or can find, except in its Philadelphia duplicate.

These suggestions may help you somewhat in deciding what you will ask to see when you call:

Paris Novelty Dress Stuffs Broadcloths and "Tailor-Made" We are showing some designs here that have not yet appeared in Paris stores. We often do. We troduction. They are the strongest refuse to take second place to even | favorites the dress-goods people know Paris itself in this showing.

All these are of personal selection by our own representatives, and many of them are produced especially for Wanamaker's.

The Attraction of Unusual Cheapness lies in the following, but cheap as they are, it would not be worth while calling your attention to them if it were not that they were all seasonable, serviceable, high-class goods of merit and desirability.

A few thousand yards are left of the fine Black | French Drap d'Ete that we are selling at half a fair price. These range from the fine to the very finest goods of their class manufactured. We divide the lot into five grades, as follows:-

The $1.50 quality at 70c.
The $1.75 quality at 90c.
The $2 quality at $1.25.
The $2 quality at $1.25.

And these obvious bargains in Suitings: -

We began yesterday, the selling of the hardy we have quick readers and early Holland - grown Rose Bushes, with which we made such a success last year. They are ready for planting now. We offer a choice of some twenty varieties, and the prices are 15c. each, and $1.25 a dozen.

Chinaware and Cut Glass offers in this house invariably bring prompt and large responses. There are not so many or the unusual bargains in these lines as there were before the publication of our story yesterday, but talk about. Haviland China Dinner Sets take higher prices than ours, but there is precedence. We are selling these, at retail, for less than the usual wholesale prices. Offers in Austrian for our kind of work. china push these hard, and the goods themselves in many cases quite equal the French in beauty. There is a varied lot of finest cut glass pieces that we are selling at or $35. But it is better for you to one-third to one-half under the re- see them yourself.

The following goods, Another Word of the Silks

THE fine assortment of Spring Silks announced for sale yesterday morning, while reduced in quantity by one day's heavy selling, awaits your further

There were originally 23,000 yards of these silks, all bought for this express occasion, and all new and bright with the Springtime brightness of 1899.

The real cheapness of this offering cannot be overestimated. It does not lie altogether in the prices, although these have been cut mercilessly. The strong merit is in the excellence of quality and the freshness and desirability of the patterns. These would alone distinguish the offer from the multifold "bargain silks" of frequent announcement.
